

NON-COMPLIANCE IS NOT AN OPTION

You have been presented with a subpoena, drawn on a California court. READ THE SUBPOENA. This document demands that the records be “made available for inspection at your business address by the attorney’s representative and that you permit copying at your business address under reasonable conditions during normal business hours.”

If you have no records, an affidavit stating why you have no records is required by law.

If you have records, YOU MUST COMPLY. “Disobedience of a subpoena may be punished as contempt by the court. You will also be liable for the sum of five hundred dollars and all damages resulting from your failure to obey.”

Call our office and advise us as to when we may come and copy the requested records. If we do not have a response within five days, we will advise our client accordingly. Your attendance may be required at a deposition, at which time you will be given the opportunity to explain why you believe that the California Code of Civil Procedures applies to everyone but you. We can guarantee that further action will be taken.
